PALM BEACH JUNIOR COLLEGE
4200 CONGRESS AVENUE
LAKE WORTH, FLORIDA

To the students of Palm Beach Junior College:

A yearbook is published for the purpose of giving one a record of events that have taken place over a given period of time. Aside from the actual diplomas and degrees, it is one of the few tangible items that one has to take with him upon leaving school. In the years to come, time will have a way of clouding memories and events into oblivion. However, the school yearbook will keep the memories of events fresh and serve as a lasting reminder of all that took place. Thus, a yearbook is a most important part of the college scene.

We of the GALLEON staff are aware of this and have kept this responsibility in mind in planning this edition of the book. A great deal of time and effort has been put into the 1969 GALLEON to make it as accurate a representation of life here at Palm Beach Junior College as possible.

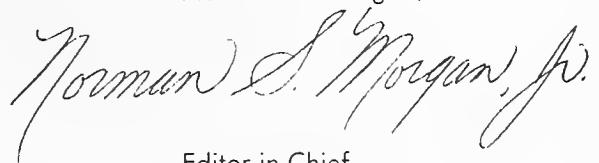

In achieving this end, we have had the help of many — unfortunately far too numerous to mention. However, there are several that do deserve special recognition. Mr. Ron Binns has served as our representative from the Taylor Publishing Company and has been of invaluable assistance in the preparation of the book. Photographers from the publishing company, the Vincent Price Studio, and the college's own news bureau have provided us with the many fine pictures included in the book. And of course, no recognition would be complete without a very special thanks to our GALLEON advisor — Mrs. Olga Cannelly. She has worked tirelessly and conscientiously to co-ordinate the efforts in publishing the book. We owe her much.

Yet in closing, I wish to acknowledge most of all the GALLEON staff itself. People like Gail Lee McDermott, Jana Wright, Dana Ferguson, Bob Miller, and Jim Ransomer have made my job much easier and far more enjoyable.

To prepare a yearbook is a most enlightening experience. To see it published and have it appreciated is the reward.

We await your decision.

Since July 1, 1968 the newly established District Board of Trustees of Palm Beach Junior College, which replaced the former College Advisory Committee, has been working industriously to promote better inter-campus relationships. The members of the committee come from all walks of life and from all parts of the country. The membership includes Mrs. Joyce W. Dartch (West Palm Beach), Mr. Maynard C. Hamblin (Lake Worth), Mr. Milton E. McKay (Belle Glade), Mr. Richard D. Hill (West Palm Beach), and Mr. S. M. Fluellyn. Through the co-operation of all the individuals on campus the board hopes to enable the college to run more efficiently and to the satisfaction of a majority of the faculty, administration, and student body.

Palm Beach Junior College came into being in 1933 as a community response to the serious problems of the great depression which began in Florida in 1925, four years earlier than the rest of the nation. By 1933, the economy of Palm Beach County had been poor so long many parents found it impossible to send sons and daughters away to the University for four years of college. High school graduates could find no jobs, and their time was being wasted.

For its first 15 years, the college scheduled classes in rooms at Palm Beach High School, and two buildings on the north side of Gardenia Street were taken over for offices, classrooms, and a student union.

In February, 1948, under the leadership of its first president, Dr. John I. Leonard, the college moved to a 21-acre site at the Morrison Field, a deactivated World War II Air Force Base. Converted barracks were used as dormitories, and the Air Base hospital provided excellent classroom space. A chapel, gymnasium, and swimming pool were already in existence at the new campus.

At Morrison Field, (now Palm Beach Air Force Base), enrollment climbed to 415 in 1951, when the Korean Conflict brought about reactivation of the base.

Palm Beach Junior College faced one of its two greatest crises. The depression had long since vanished in the prosperity brought on by World War II, and some community leaders were in favor of allowing the college without a home to dissolve.

Spirited support by college students and faculty convinced the community that P.B.J.C. was a living, vital part of the growth pattern of the area, and a home was found in the Town Hall at Lake Park. Here, in spite of cramped quarters, the college continued to grow until 1956, when 300 students were jammed into the one building.

In the fall of 1956, Dr. Leonard gratefully moved into a truly permanent campus and two years later, retired, turning over the guidance of the college to its current president, Dr. Harold C. Manor.

The college has gradually expanded into nearly full use of its site on the western shore of Lake Osborne, west of the city of Lake Worth, with constant growth in number of students, number and variety of course offerings, and reputation in the academic world since it moved into its permanent home.

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

October 14, 1968

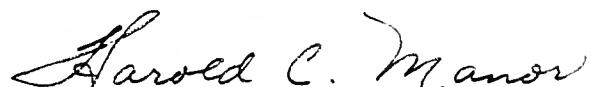

To The Students of Palm Beach Junior College:

I have been pleased that Palm Beach Junior College has continued to grow and that each department has been able to expand its program to meet the academic needs of our students. As the size of the student body has increased the number of interesting activities available for your participation has also increased. Day by day you have responded to the many opportunities and challenges for personal growth and achievement which have been presented to you in these programs and activities. It is my earnest wish that these experiences have indeed made this a memorable year for you.

Our Galleon staff has recorded many of those days that were memorable in fun and fellowship, and many of our activities will be more effective because you gave your best efforts to the programs.

For those who are graduating, may each of your days at the university or at work be as pleasant and significant as these have been. Although we shall follow your progress with pride and interest we want you to come back and visit us whenever you can.

Sincerely yours,

Harold C. Manor

Senate Clerk

The Legislative Department of the Student Government Association is the Senate. Twelve Sophomore Senators, twelve Freshman Senators, and three Senators representing the I & R Board, the Beachcomber, and the I.S.C.C. make up the Senate body. Here all legislation originates and is passed. It is also the duty of the Senate to approve all Presidential appointments and the budget. Any student is eligible to run for a Senate seat. The elections take place at the beginning of the Fall Term. The Senate is a great place to develop one's debating ability and attention span.

It is the task of the GALLEON staff to create and publish the yearbook for Palm Beach Junior College. As the school has grown the responsibility of producing the book has grown, and it is not an easy assignment. Yet it is a rewarding one for it has given the staff members the opportunity to become involved in the activities of the college. With the exception of one, all the staff members are Freshmen and have therefore appreciated this opportunity to become acquainted with each other as well as with the workings of the school. Aside from the native "Floridians" on the staff, members have also come from Illinois, Ohio, and Massachusetts.

Many months of planning and assembling the pages have gone into this edition of the yearbook. Working during the school day and long into the hours of Friday nights, the book has gradually taken its present form. The 1969 GALLEON staff hopes you enjoy it.

The MEDIA is the literary magazine of Palm Beach Junior College. The purpose is to provide a creative outlet for art and literary students. Contributions are accepted from any registered student. The works are then read and judged by a panel of volunteers from the student body who meet at the home of the advisor, Mr. Walker Graham. The MEDIA then goes to press in March and is released in April. In the past years, the MEDIA has won eleven state awards in competition with other junior and senior colleges.

OFFICERS: Kathie Tims — Secretary-Treasurer, Kathy Lesko — President, Joni Parker — Historian.

Campus Gold is one of the newest clubs on campus. It was founded in the Fall Term of 1968 by the Palm Glades Girl Scout Council. The purpose of this club is to promote Girl-Scouting by taking over the responsibilities of leading and assisting troops, and providing people, facilities, and money. One of the many services they give is providing their members to troops for week-end camping trips. Many of the members are past Girl Scouts who remember the good times they had and who want to pass them on to others.

The Sisters of

"Philo" means love. It is this sisterhood which offers friendship, fellowship, and hospitality to every Philo member. The oldest women's social club, Phi Lambda Rho, was founded in 1939 to assist in scholastic affairs, to promote loyalty to the school, and to further the social life of P.B.J.C.

Philo activities include making Christmas more enjoyable to children in local hospitals, giving a scholarship, making a calendar, a sisterhood Christmas party, pledge parties, road trips, and weekend.

The winter trimester was highlighted by the Golden Arch Ball, one of the oldest social functions on campus.

Phi Da Di engages in such activities as performing schaal projects, rush parties, and the sponsoring and publication of the Student Directory. The Sweetheart Ball, also sponsored by Phi Da Di, highlights the social calendar of events. In performing these functions, Phi Da Di hopes to create more unity among the student body.

Time — the present, in the small village of Ballybeg, Ireland. The night before Gar's departure.

The action takes place in the living quarters behind the general store of S. B. O'Donnell.

"Philadelphia," is the story of a small-town Irish boy's struggle between himself and his alter ego or his private thoughts. The effect is one we have all known at one time or the other.

The Business of Life... Every student sooner or later asks himself, "Isn't it time I stopped preparing and started doing? Shouldn't

I get on with the business of life?"

But experience shows that the business of life is precisely the business of learning. To be sure, what is learned must be applied. But the more we learn, the more we have to offer ourselves, our families, our society.

It is sometimes too early to start doing, but it is never too late to continue learning.
